Why Emergency Response Plans are critical and how to write your plan

During this two day seminar you will learn why having an emergency response plan that is current with today's best practices is critical. Our team will provide you with a template and guide you through the process to develop a tailored emergency response plan. This will provide you and your company with a course of action to properly respond to the following emergencies: Medical, Weather, Active Shooter/Aggressor, Utilities Interruptions, Gas Leak, Bomb Threat, Public Disturbance or Threatening Person.

Day 1: We give you the "Why." Learn how preparation for events can minimize critical incidents when they occur. Then we discuss the cost of workplace violence and what a critical incident can cost your company. Topics will cover OSHA code 5(a)(1).

Day 2: Present and analyze your plan. Learn what has changed over the years and how to meet current NFPA (National Fire Protection Codes) codes for high rise buildings and how to implement proper training to reinforce your Emergency Response Plan. Leave with a template for Active Aggressor, Bomb Threats, Hazardous Material, Severe Weather, Utilities interruption, Medical Emergencies, Fire, and Earthquake/Flood
